

Community Advanced Practice Nurses (CAPN), Inc. Internet Privacy Policy

CAPN has drafted this document, which details how we gather and disseminate information, in an effort to demonstrate our strong commitment to online privacy. Please contact us if you have any questions about our privacy policy.

Use of Internet Protocol Address

We use your Internet protocol (IP) address for several reasons: to help diagnose problems with our server, to administer our Web site, and to gather broad demographic information.

Use of Demographic Information

We also collect demographic and profile data that we use to better serve your experience at CAPN.org.

Cookies

We do not use cookies.

Children's Guidelines

We do not collect or use any online contact information or identifiable off-line contact information about a child without parental consent. We do not distribute personally identifiable information about children without parental consent. We do not give children the ability to post or distribute personal information without prior consent. We do not entice children with games or contests that would encourage them to disclose personal information.
